PRO-GUINER. A newly formed alliance warns that powerful vested interests are behind the move to impeach Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr. They called on the people to "call, text, e-mail or mail" the congressmen who signed the impeachment complaint. Among the group's leaders are Fr. Robert Reyes of Cebuensis, Ric Reyes of Ateneo, Bong Marcos of Libertas and Chuck Lacsano.

MANILA CITY—The core group of congressmen which filed the second impeachment complaint against Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr. will not take the ruling Lakas party's open-pledge (signature-scrambling) campaign sitting down. If the campaign succeeds, pro-impeachment congressmen led by the Nationalist People's Coalition said they would move to unseat Speaker Jose de Venecia himself.

A MEMBER of the House of Representatives has found himself being barraged through text messages and telephone calls for signing the impeachment complaint against a fellow Cebuano, Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr. Cebu Rep. Nestor Sison-Ruiz of the stark district has been deluged with text messages after he came out in support of the impeachment.

Rep. Felix William "Weng" Pambolina, one of the two principal opposites to the complaint, said yesterday his group has a major plan to unseat De Venecia in case the House fails to transmit the Articles of Impeachment to the Senate.

But other congressmen identified with either the impeachment drive or the campaign to stop it began talking yesterday about specific "principled solutions" to resolve the constitutional crisis.

Pro-impeachment Rep. Constantino Jaramla (LDU) Gapanza of Iloilo City made public a list of possible solutions for ending the crisis, which drew positive initial feedback from NPC spokesperson Rep. Francisco Estrella and anti-impeachment advocate Representative Brock Steel and Tina Romulo.

But Pambolina stayed on message, saying the plan to unseat De Venecia would depend on what

Businessmen give Congress thumbs down

By Gil C. Cabasag Jr.

THE SENATE senators and congressmen push the impeachment of Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr., the more Congress lowers its credibility—at least among businessmen.

In an interview with REX-CNN News Channel 21 yesterday, Philippine-based business consultant Peter Wallace said the latest move by Congress to impeach Davide has done little to improve its credibility.

The latest quarterly survey by Wallace's firm on the economic outlook of CEOs of multinational corporations operating in the Philippines showed how low the credibility of Congress had sunk.

The survey asked 62 CEOs, many of them Filipinos, how they would rate the performance of Congress.

While the House failed to reject the petition of Dagdaga, it was supposed to reject Sen. Aquilino Pimentel Jr.

AFP puts troops on nationwide alert

By TJ Beronio and Christine Aguirre

THE MILITARY announced yesterday that it was placing its units on nationwide red alert starting today, amid fears that the recent military efforts were affecting their colleagues to maintain law and order.

The upgrading of the alert status from white to red takes effect at 7 a.m. today. The red alert is the highest in the Armed Forces' three-tiered alert level scheme.

Lt. Col. David Laceron, military chief of communications, said the red alert declaration was in anticipation of protest rallies over the impeachment complaint against Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr. and not an addendum of a fresh round of coup rumors.

"This alert status is meant to prepare our civil management units for any eventualities that will be considered by concerned groups," he said at a press briefing in Camp Aguinaldo.

"It has to stress here that this alert level status has nothing to do with those rumors being spread that some members of the AFP will be joining any destabilization move," he added.

An understrength number of troops will be deployed at the following bases in Quezon City and its environs to aid the civil disturbance management units of the national police, Laceron said.

The Philippine National Police yesterday deployed forces of a camp. But the PNP will see more than 400 officers to maintain peace.

This deployment includes at least 200 members of CDM units from Central Luzon and the Calabarzon area and two companies from the Headquarters Support Service and the 1st Special Actions Force. The Central Luzon contingents arrived at around 10 p.m. Sunday.

PCGG seeks re-freeze order on San Miguel shares

By Fernando N. Nocum

THE PRESIDENTIAL Commission on Good Government yesterday asked the Sandiganbayan to reinstate the restraining order against the 20 percent San Miguel Corp. stake being claimed by business man Eduardo "Corking" Colapinto Jr., saying the suit could endow him with the power to alter the ownership of the company.

In a 36-page motion for reconsideration filed before the division of the Sandiganbayan, the PCGG asked the suit could endow him with the power to alter the ownership of the company.

"This honorable court may take a step of intervention in the suit on the San Miguel shares for the purpose of preventing the destruction, concealment or dissipation, and otherwise, conserving and preserving the same until the honorable court makes its final determination that the subject SMC shares were in fact ill-gotten," the PCGG said in a motion filed before the division of the Sandiganbayan.

The PCGG filed the motion for reconsideration in response to the Sandiganbayan's ruling dated last Sept. 17, nullifying the restraining order against Colapinto Jr. because of Colapinto's 20 percent stake in the bank and insurance giant.

The government earlier asked the court to get hold of Colapinto's shares.

In its appeal, the PCGG said the suit could result in the shares being "reinstated" if not nullified, as the Sandiganbayan's ruling would "allow" the shares to be sold.

The GCG said the disarming of the Sandiganbayan's ruling would "allow" the shares to be sold, as the Sandiganbayan's ruling would "allow" the shares to be sold.

El Shaddai to pray for end to political crisis

By Blanche S. Rivera

THE CELESTIAL charismatic group, El Shaddai, yesterday stepped into the rarefied arena of Congress and the House of Representatives, saying it had had enough of the political dysfunction and needed to do something about it.

El Shaddai, which boasts of eight million members in the country, said it would hold a prayer service for the nation at the House of Representatives in Manila on Saturday and Sunday to call for action to be taken by Congress to end the political crisis.

El Shaddai leader Mike S. Ruiz, however, stressed that the group would "remain neutral" in the issue and would simply seek a meeting point so that the squabbling politicians could end the impasse.

Ruiz's team, then, of the party list rally was one of the 50 signatures to the impeachment complaint filed in the House of Representatives against Chief Justice Hilario Davide Jr.

"The prayer rally may not be the first (and last), but it is bold in nature of prayer rallies and they had a mission to this... otherwise this will be some kind of crisis," Ruiz said at a press conference at the El Shaddai office in Manila.

He then said that he would continue "private rally" with congressmen and lawmakers, but he would not be involved in the impeachment process.

He said that he would also meet an audience with Davide and "request him to respect the independence of the House of Representatives."

"The house of God is not that will give justice, but it will give peace," Ruiz said. "We need to look into the issue and call to them, to place positive meeting points," he said.

The rally, which he also led at the House of Representatives, was held at the House of Representatives in Manila.

"There's a thin line between fanaticism and fanaticism," Ruiz said. "We should have to see if we are really fanatics or not."

The House of Representatives is the legislative branch of the government, and the Senate is the executive branch.

Gay bishop consecrated amid threats of schism

DORMAM, N.J.—The Rev. Gene Robinson was consecrated as bishop at the first openly gay bishopric in the U.S. Episcopal Church, a move condemned as "heresy" by conservative opponents who said it would tear apart the worldwide Anglican community.

The move has struck little waves in the worldwide Anglican community, but it has caused a major rift in the U.S. Episcopal Church, which has a long history of being a haven for the LGBT community.

ABS-CBN 'aggressively' trying to pirate GMA 7 show host

By Phyllis B. Cruz

GMA 7 talent Bernadette Benavente is being "aggressively" wooed by ABS-CBN after she was rumored to be switching from her network.

Angel Pangilinan-Benavente, Benavente's manager, said they had met with ABS-CBN executives early this week.

ABS-CBN is supposedly wooing Benavente as replacement for Willie Perillano in the Saturday afternoon public service program "Willingly Yours," which aired its final telecast last Saturday.

Benavente has her own program, "With You Long," which has been public service feature on DZS-7.

Benavente denied Benavente would be re-

Angel said GMA 7 was willing to let Benavente go, "but so if ever Benavente is still committed to WYLS to Long."

Tondo hit by new gastro outbreak

By Terro Quinsanda

Exactly one week after hundreds of Tondo residents were stricken by severe gastroenteritis, a new spate of the same illness has been reported from the same area in Manila.

Carmen Igo Cabral, Manila City Health Department (MCHE) administrative officer, said a "spate of cases" of the outbreak hit on Thursday Oct. 30.

As of Sunday, a total of 217 more people had gone to hospitals in the city complaining of vomiting, stomach pain and diarrhea.

The figure brings to 373 the number of people from 11 barangays in Tondo reported to have been stricken by severe gastroenteritis since Oct. 21.

Initially, 220 persons were diagnosed with severe gastroenteritis during the period from Oct. 22 to Oct. 27.

Igo Cabral said they had yet to establish whether the new cases were related to the initial case of water contamination in areas along Sampag, Bagumbay, Tugue, Capalong and other nearby areas in Tondo.

He, however, hinted at ongoing activities by the Maynilad Water Services Inc., the water service provider in Manila, as the cause of the new outbreak.

He disclosed that laboratory tests done by the local health department on samples taken on Oct. 27, or prior to the second wave of the outbreak, indicated an absence of chlorine in the water specimens in the affected areas.

But Maynilad fully denied that the chlorine content in the water they were supplying in Tondo had fallen below standards.

In an interview, Jon Matulis, Maynilad corporate communications manager, stressed that the quality of the water they were providing in Tondo "passed" the standards set by the Department of Health (DOH last week).

Maynilad has always maintained that the level of chlorine, which kills germs in the water supply, has never surpassed national and international standards.

Matulis added that Maynilad provides, however, regulated water that the low level of residual chlorine found by the DOH might have been due to the dispersion of chlorine during the distribution process.

This developed as the Bureau of Philippine Action Network, a media watchdog coalition, said Maynilad should be held liable for the outbreak.

At the same time, the Center for Environmental Concerns-Philippines accused the water firm of negligence, as it is the failure of the government's policy of promoting water safety services.

Meanwhile, Manila Mayor Josema Sison said yesterday that their main concern now was to help the victims and not find fault.

"Looking at any existing or existing water system," Sison said, he added City Hall and Maynilad were working on "corrective measures to re-establish public health."

Maynilad digs deeper

THE MAYNILAD Water Services Inc. yesterday said it was conducting its independent investigation with the Department of Health and Manila Health Department to establish the epidemiological cause of the gastroenteritis outbreak in Tondo.

This would be done as Maynilad accepts the health department's findings in the area, to establish its link to the distribution of chlorine into the water.

The water firm said its water was safe and potable (safe and pure) water pipes were unchanged through the distribution process and "no leaks or breaks."

MMDA pushes ban on tinted windows

By Margue Ona

ALABANG used to be the site of industry and building materials until public utility vehicles (PUVs), the Metropolitan Manila Development Authority is now pushing for the strict implementation of the ban on tinted windows.

MMDA Chief Bayan Fernando said it is a pre-condition for the sale of a vehicle to the police and MMDA to issue a license to drive a PUV.

The mandate and they were giving public vehicles a week to remove their tint.

"We will start removing the tint of apprehended vehicles by next week," Fernando said.

He also said they would be imposing additional penalties for operators and drivers who refuse to cooperate as soon as they are able to pass at ordinance on the rate law.

Servicio added they would be conducting special patrolling on the proper removal of tint as an act to enforce the ordinance.

"We are just implementing the old memorandum of the Land Transportation Office," he said.

He said the memorandum, issued on April 17, 1976, prohibits the use of tinted glass, blinds, curtains and any other device which would obstruct the view from the outside into the interior of motor vehicles in order to detect crime.

The same memorandum allowed the tinting of the upper portions of the windshield and front pillars, provided that the tinting will not exceed any inches in width for heavy and light vehicles, or two inches for business vehicles.

It also said the use of curtains, blinds, or other devices at the rear glass shall be allowed during night hours only, provided a space in the middle is left open.

Curtain and/or blinds can be used on side windows on moving ships, but only on the side of the vehicle directly exposed to the line of vision.

But the use of totally tinted glass, whether with or without a sun visor, is prohibited.

It also warned on the use of curtains and blinds on more than one side of the vehicle on moving ships, and on any side window.

By Tito Santos

DETENTION/striving folk departed loved ones at the same moment, about 1,200 urban poor families in Payatas, Quezon City spent the long holiday weekend looking for a place to stay.

Their houses, which used to stand as a patchwork of shacks, had been demolished, leaving them homeless and facing most of them today on the streets.

The residents claimed that the demolition crew came on Thursday afternoon and started demolishing their houses and that they were the day after they were not spared from the demolition, which the residents claimed as illegal as they did not receive any notice of eviction.

Overwhelmed by the demolition crew were the Church of the Immaculate, the Golden Heart Church and the Holy Spirit Church, which were also demolished.

"The demolition crew came with the members of the OSG and policemen armed with tear gas. We were not given any notice," they just started demolishing our houses," said Maribel Garcia, a resident of the area.

She said the demolition crew was not given any notice of eviction.

They continued with the demolition work, which they claimed was within their jurisdiction," Garcia said. "It is a matter of jurisdiction and I'm not because the people have no place
